KAVANAGH & DECKER'S
BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

CAT-GUT CUSHION,

Manufactured by KAVANAGH & DECKER, and Patented Dec. 19, 1865. (See Scientific American, Vol. 18, No. 11.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities essential to a Perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since its introduction. The peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-Gut Cushion and renders it superior to all others, is the tightened cord or cat-gut which overlies the face and edge of the rubber and running the full length of the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the table. The addition of the cat-gut cord also adds much to the elasticity of the cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, N. Y., is the most complete of its kind in the world. The machinery is of the most improved character, the lumber dry, and the parts used in the Cushion, the material used the best that can be purchased, and the workmen thoroughly skilled.

Billiard Cloth, Balls, Cues and Trimmings, all of the best make, constantly on hand.

Kavanagh & Decker are the only agents in this country for Kay's Cue Cement, adjudged by competent authorities to be the best Cement ever used.

Full size Tables cut down for $100.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE,
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THIS WORLD.

It has always been our aim, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

These Celebrated Instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness does not destroy the middle and upper registers, by being in tune with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed ear as the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 dawly

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF THE APPEAL.

A Government of white men for white men; and no political miscegenation.

Loyalty to the Union of the States: Fidelity to the Constitution in its true extent and meaning: Obedience to and maintenance of all law, State and National, constitutionally enacted.

Resistance to Tyranny, Usurpation and Oppression, of one man or many; and to all encroachments upon the rights of freemen or of States, or upon the just and Constitutional prerogatives of any Department of the State or National Governments.

No Establishments of Military despotisms, no enthroning of martial law, no suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, no slaying of citizens by Military Commission, no interference with the Courts, no lettres de cachet, in time of peace.

Strict subordination of the Military to the Civil Power.

No standing armies of States in time of peace.

Restoration of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been disseized; no prosecutions or disqualifications for political opinions; for the Past, oblivion of offences: for the Present and Future, Union, Peace, Law and Order.

Perpetual assurance to all freemen of the African race, of all the civil rights of freemen.

No Repudiation, by State or Nation, of any honest and lawful debt.

No revival of old party differences; but a Union of all Conservative men, of all former parties, who revere the Constitution, to restore the old land-marks of the Government.

No Legislation to plunder one portion of the country for the profit of another portion.

Whatever is just; whatever is right; whatever is of good repute, and worthy of the descendants of English freemen

HAS FORCE CHANGED THE CONSTITUTION?

[CONCLUDED.]

The measures now in progress will beget but a hollow truce. The war of ideas will begin again. If we still think it sure and demonstrable that the Constitution is a compact between the States, and that a State has the right to secede, for violations of that compact by other States, or because it has, by change of circumstances, become unfair or onerous, or because the States never understood it alike, we shall necessarily be at all times ready to fight for that faith when we think there is a probability of success. We may dissemble for a time, but our faith remains. If we deny it we are but hypocrites, and only not knaves, because acting under compulsion and duress.

If it were a new question, many of us might think it unwise to continue the sovereignty of the States; might think it wiser to create one great consolidated nation; but can never agree that the States are that, while they think it as plain as day that they are not. Many of us, if we had been in the Convention of 1787, might have voted with Hamilton, Randolph and Madison, against the Federative system, and State Sovereignty, and in favor of a National Government. That would probably have depended on the size and population of the States we represented. But what we may think it would have been better for them to do, and what we are to swear they did do, are very different things.

There are many men in the South who are willing, under present circumstances, to see the Constitution so changed as to make the Government and the Union what Mr. Webster claimed they were; who are willing to see the experiment of a consolidated Government tried; for, though they believe that the maintenance of the Sovereignty of the States is indispensable to the continuance of the Republic, and the only security against anarchy, followed by an Imperial Government; yet they are satisfied that time, of itself, and the multiplicity of new States, would soon have changed the nature of the Government, without any change in the letter of the Constitutions and they are willing to yield to the majority. Believe us of our obligation to support the Constitution as it is written, and as we understand it, and give us the opportunity to bind ourselves to support an amended one, and that will be effected which the plan now being pursued never can effect. We cannot perjure ourselves to save our property or lives.

Those of us who have been most devoted to the Sovereignty of the States, would rather live under the Constitution, amended so as to plainly utter Mr. Webster's theory, than under any other than a Republican Government. If we cannot have what we think the very best, we will yield to what may be the wiser opinion, and take the next best. But no majority, even if it be a million to one, has the right to require us to swear to support the Constitution as written, by giving it a construction which we firmly believe to be false both in law and fact. To make a pardon depend on this, would be to offer a premium for perjury. Even if we could be forced to refrain from the peaceful avowal and propagation of our opinions, we could not be compelled to hold them, or to proclaim them.

We respectfully suggest to the President to consider whether it will not be wise, as the only means of completely restoring the Union—whether it will not be manly and noble statesmanship, and what you propose—what a triumph of your party will tend to secure—is the remanding of those States back into Military satraples, and the postponement of their reconstruction to some indefinite future day. Meantime, Industry, Trade, Thrift, must await the dubious issue of a fierce, protracted struggle, involving a war of the White on the Black, the Rich against the Poor. The country cannot afford such a prolongation of anarchy, and will not. Let us settle all our differences now!—N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 5.

That is,—"no matter how the white men of the Nation vote, or what they will, the Southern negroes will have twenty-two Senators and eighty Representatives, all Radicals, and shall become masters of the destinies of the Nation." That is what the North fought for,—four thousand millions of debt, and eleven negro States, to send Senators to Congress and vote for President.

Success breeds arrogance and insolence; and Radicalism has achieved success in the South. The registered voters in Alabama, (excluding certain classes of those that probably have obtained the privilege of voting, as the census shows,) whites and blacks all counted together, and the vote on the Convention present the following figures:

Registered voters	156,289
For the Convention	97,672
Against Convention	5,685
Total of voters in the election	98,357
Absentees from the polls	72,832

It appears from these figures that, as in the election on the Convention question a majority of the registered voters must participate, to make the election valid, the registered whites, excepting a few scattering shots, abstained from voting, as the only chance for defeating the Convention. They adopted the same policy in Louisiana and Georgia, but failed in each case. Secondly, they failed because the blacks turned out en masse in each case for the Convention; and having a registered majority in Louisiana and Alabama, and having only some two thousand less registered in Georgia than the whites, and being supported by some white Radicals, they carried the day in all three of those States. In Virginia the registered whites, having a majority of some twenty thousand over the blacks, were encouraged to make a square fight against a Convention, but were here also defeated by the diversion of some fifteen thousand white Radicals to the negro party.

Carlotta is slowly improving in general health, but her mind wanders sadly as ever. There is one new development; she has become so accustomed to the daily visits of the Queen of Belgium that whenever the latter fails, for any cause, to come at the usual time, she becomes sad and somewhat querulous.

The upper slopes of the White Mountains, N. M., are covered with snow.

THE LIE DEDUCTIVE.

Schuyler Colfax of Indiana is by no means an intellectual prodigy. Nature suffered no extraordinary pains in giving birth to him. He is an incarnation of pretentious mediocrity, and Speaker of the House of Representatives of part of the United States. Even in arriving at that post, neither enviable or reputable in these days, he has been exalted far beyond his small merits. One of the great crowd of moderate and ordinary intellects, he is always straining a tiptoe to lift himself above his peers, but his wings are of lead, and in flying he skims along the earth, being, among men of genuine power of intellect, what a bat is among birds. At the bar he would be a pettifogger of respectable attainments, in medicine a pert quack, in divinity a punishment inflicted by Providence on his congregation for their sins; and in State craft he is a humbug and impostor. He is even worse: He is not above lying, to win a little spasmodic applause from a miscellaneous audience even of the canaille of a city.

On the 23d of October he inflicted a tedious and miscellaneous speech of some two hours duration, on a New York audience, "immense, including many ladies," at the Cooper Institute; and if his dullness had been ten times as great, he would have found it in his heart to inflict it all upon them. It was evident that he laboured under the insane delusion that he was both eloquent and witty; and so perhaps he was, according to the Radical standard which adopts the negro estimate of these qualities.

Schuyler is a useful person in a party, toiling always with a patient pertinacity, jaunty and impudent, his oratory hardly up to the grade of 'low-middling,' and his wit like dead small beer,—a small, windy, useful man, working well in harness, and not particular as to the kind of work to be done.

He said of Abraham Lincoln: "From the top of Fame's ladder he had mounted to the skies, and he had taken with him the manacles of four millions of his fellow men;" 'at which there was 'prolonged applause.' Schuyler had evidently not calculated the weight and bulk of four millions of manacles, when he represented A. Lincoln as lugging them with him up to heaven from the top of a ladder; nor, probably, did he have any definite idea what use there is in heaven for such a quantity of old iron; but nevertheless there was, say the types, 'prolonged applause.'

Schuyler said that every prominent rebel was a life-long Democrat, which was a lie, because Stephens, Toombs and Benjamin were life-long Whigs, and went over to the Democracy out of antipathy to Know-Nothingism.

He also said, in the course of a furious onslaught upon the President:

"Look at the States Mr. Lincoln attempted to reconstruct during the rebellion—Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, and West Virginia, carved out of old Virginia. He placed them all in the hands of loyal men. Look at the States "reconstructed" by Mr. Johnson—every one of them into the hands of rebels: the difference between the brilliant light of the sun at noon day and the darkness of midnight. Mr. Lincoln never made Johnson Governor of Tennessee until he first made him a brigadier in the army of the United States, confirmed by the Senate. As Commander-in-Chief of the army he had the right to detail him for this duty. Johnson could have detailed any soldier to that duty, from a private to a General, under military law; but he had no more power to appoint to civil office than any man or woman before me to-night.

That, now, we call the lie deductive. The other was the lie direct. Schuyler knew that A. Lincoln appointed Isaac Murphy to be Goverhor of Arkansas, and did not first make him a Brigadier General or anything else that was military. So that, in appointing to civil office, Mr. Johnson has done precisely what A. Lincoln did. It would have been a lie direct, to say that Lincoln had not appointed civil Governors over States. Schuyler knew that, and therefore lied indirectly, and even more deliberately than if he had boldly told the direct falsehood: and that, too, to damage the President and assist to win the assent of the populace to his impeachment.

"Tis, indeed, as good fun as a Cynic would ask,
To see how this hoosier bred setter of rabbits,
Takes gravely the Lord of the Forest to task,
And judges of lions by puppy-dog habits."

EMPLOYMENT WANTED.

We have received a letter from a lady in Alabama, who asks us to assist her in finding some occupation by which she can maintain herself and two children. We would fain do so if it were in our power, and we most sensibly feel how very powerless we are to render any assistance, except by appealing to others, to those who, like her, are "oppressed by necessitous circumstances."

The lady in question authorizes us to say that she is a good French and Spanish scholar, speaking each language fluently, and having a fair knowledge of Italian; that she can write rapidly, could copy, translate, act as amanuensis, take notes for authors, fill some post suited to a lady in a city or State Institution, and teach all the usual branches of a girl's education. She is no mathematician, rather seeks immediate employment than high salary, and is indifferent as to locality, so that it is south of the Ohio: and she refers us to Master-Masons and other friends.

We have no other way of aiding her to obtain employment than by thus making known her wishes; and we shall very gladly receive and transmit to her any proposal that may be sent to us. Certainly her acquirements ought to secure her occupation.

LEGISLATIVE.

November 9—In the Senate, Mr. Carey introduced a bill incorporating the Jewish Benevolent Society of Davidson county.

Under a suspension of the rules, a resolution, offered by Senator Cate, suspending J. S. Hull from his position as Warden of the Penitentiary, was adopted.

The Committee on Immigration, reported in favor of the bill to incorporate a Board of Immigration, with an amendment appropriating $1000 to assist in turning the tide of immigration to Tennessee.

Mr. Garner was opposed to the bill and amendment. He said this bill gave too much political power to the Executive. We once had a Vice President who was elected as a Republican, but what is he now? The successor of our present Governor may be corrupt enough to use the whole machinery put in his hands by this bill for importing voters here to defeat the Republicans. What a silly fellow!

Senator Carey warmly advocated the bill, and contended that our only hope of diverting the tide of immigration from its accustomed channel toward the Northwest, is to organize and have agents ready to meet the immigrant and inform him of the vast resources of our State, and its soft, healthful climate.

Senator Mathews did not think the bill, if passed, would bring immigrants here. The lands here are in the hands of a landed aristocracy, and you must break up this aristocracy.

Senator Eckle believed that the landholders were very willing to sell their lands. They were burdened with taxes upon their lands, and if we could induce a large influx of German immigration, the country would be developed and taxes reduced.

Messrs. Lyle, Fuson and Rodgers briefly discussed the message, urging its passage. It was then passed on its second reading by 15 to 7.

Senate Bill creating a new Chancery division in Davidson county, and a new Judicial circuit for the purpose of criminal trials in East Tennessee, was passed on third reading.

DIED.

HAYS—Died, near Mobile, on August 31st, Laura, wife of Col. A. J. Hays, and daughter of Mr. I. B. and Mrs. Lucy Kirtland, recently of Memphis. Also, on September 5th, Lucy, their daughter, aged one year and ten months.

In the demise of this estimable lady, a large circle of friends and acquaintances are grievously afflicted, and with the profoundest feelings of ingenuous sorrow, sympathise with Col. Hays, the disconsolate husband, and surviving children, and with the parents, Mr. I. B. Kirtland and wife, as also with the brothers and sisters. "We commend them to God, and the word of His grace," for our condo eance cannot assuage their grief. May the Great Head of the Church teach them that

"Earth hath no sorrows that Heaven cannot heal."

She died a christian, and has gone to the embrace of her Savior.

"Widely Heaven's gates their portals threw,
Swiftly she passed to rest
As on the Seraph's wings she flew,
To lean on Jesus' breast."

May they all be partakers of her blessedness.

WANTED—THE PATENT

AURORA OIL.

We want men every where to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil of actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is NO MORE explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and back, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county or a small portion of the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold wroth.

Supt. of Circulation.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—The sale to take place at 250 Second street, to day, promises to be of the most interesting character, and will be a good chance for bargains. Remember ten o'clock.

POLICE BUSINESS.—The business in the Police Courts yesterday might be called the records of "Blue Monday," the receipts of the First District footing up short of forty dollars, while there were but two arrests in the Second. This looks well for our general morality.

STORE ROBBERY.—The house of H. R. Downs & Co., in the Bradley block, was entered on Sunday night by the front doors being forced, when several boxes of the fragrant weed, and other articles, were stolen. No trace has as yet been got of the thieves.

BIVALVES.—The best oyster lunch of the season will be set at the Jimplecute saloon this morning from ten till twelve o'clock. The finest oysters to be had in the market will be served. Those who have been at the spreads of this house before, will not fail to call daily.

DRAY TIPPED OVER.—An omnibus coming from the race track yesterday evening ran against a mule and dray on Main street, upsetting the driver and mule as well. No serious injury was done to either, and no prospect of an action for damages being brought.

FALL OF A SIGN POST.—The favorite six grey horse team while passing along Court street yesterday, between Main and Second street, ran against and demolished a sign post. A lady who was standing almost under the same, barely escaped serious injury.

PERSONAL.—Among the celebrities at present in the city we noticed at the Gayoso house Gen. Gideon J. Pillow and ex-Congressman Hal. C. Chambers, of Mississippi. John H. McKee, Esq., editor of the Oxford (Miss.) Falcon, is also in the city. His paper is a very interesting sheet, and has a large and rapidly increasing circulation.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to a buggy ran away yesterday afternoon on the corner of Poplar and Second Street, and threw the lady and gentleman occupying it out on the ground, though without any personal injury to either of them. The horn against the pavement near the Overton hotel and stopped, causing a wreck of the vehicle.

THE HENRY AMES.—This packet did not get away from New Orleans on time, having on a large return trip which she picked up in the Crescent city. She will be in port, however, early to morrow morning, and will leave at 5 p. m. promptly on her return trip. Lamy Harmstad & Co. have about 500 tons of freight on the City wharfboat awaiting her arrival, besides several hundred bales of cotton. They receive for her at all hours, and sign bills of lading. It is desirable that shippers should send down their freight as soon as possible, as her time in port will be short.

BEAUTIFUL.—The really magnificent display of fine jewelry, watches, walking canes, etc., in the show windows of Messrs. Merriman, Byrd & Co., reminds us of that fine poet Keats said, viz., that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever." Hundreds of our people, as they daily perambulate our principal thoroughfare, have their attention arrested by the many rich, rare and beautiful goods, so temptingly and tastefully arranged for the display of the really fine and recherche stock within. Their timing watches are of the very latest style and design, and are certainly unexcelled. They receive new goods daily, and to all who wish to feast their eyes on the ultra et pulchre go immediately to this palatial establishment.

SHOOTING ON ALABAMA STREET.—On Saturday night two negroes, known as Henry McDonnell and Doug Taylor, had an altercation of a serious character in the suburbs named "Scotland." Taylor indulged in language imputing to McDonnell want of courage. The latter did not resent the insult at the time, but on Sunday evening armed himself, determined to settle the matter more to his own satisfaction. Meeting Taylor on Alabama street, he called on him to retract. The latter refused and McDonnell fired, the ball striking Taylor, and inflicting a severe though not fatal wound. Officers Miller and Dixon soon afterward arrested McDonnell and lodged him in the stationhouse. He will come before a Justice to day.

A BURGLAR SHOT.—About 4 o'clock Sunday morning, Mr. Mullins, a printer of this city, boarding at the house of Mr. Larkin, at the corner of Washington and Third streets, heard a noise in the house, which aroused his suspicions and he got up to ascertain the cause. Taking a revolver in his hand, he left his room and proceeded in the direction of the sound, which seemed to be in the dining-room. Opening the door of that room, he saw a fellow standing about in it, and at once drew up his pistol and fired upon him. Notwithstanding the darkness, his aim proved accurate, the ball passing through the burglar's thighs. He fired two other shots before ascertaining that the fellow was wounded, but only the first took effect. He secured the intruder and delivered him over at the Adams street stationhouse. The burglar gave his name as John Livercombe. His wounds engaging attention, he was sent to the City Hospital. The same house was entered on Thursday night and robbed of articles to the value of $200. After this warm reception of one of their fraternity, the burglars will be likely hereafter to give it a wide berth.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—A large number of turfmen, owners of stables and others interested in turf sports, arrived in the city on Saturday. The following are stopping at the Overton Hotel: Messrs. Edward A. Smith, Cincinnati; T. G. Saunders, Louisville; C. S. Bliss, R. F. Denton, G. W. Morton, B. F. Hutchison, W. Hutchison, S. B. Raymond, St. Louis; J. W. Walker, Columbus, Ky.; H. S. Simpson, T. Dickson, J. J. Burke, Louisville; J. Denny, New Orleans; E. R. Davis, V. B. Holman, J. S. L. Stillwell, J. H. Cunningham, C. E. Diggins, Henry Langford and Thomas Shute, Nashville. The following are at the Gayoso: Hugh Douglass, Steve Johnson, A. Turner, W. H. Johnson, E. T. Craig, A. C. Franklin, Walter Scott, E. Wilson, H. Van Lieu and Wm. Kinney, Nashville. Many other prominent lovers of the whip and ribbons are arriving daily.

MEMPHIS FALL MEETING.

LARGE ATTENDANCE ON THE FIELD.

Ladies' Stand Well Filled Up.

Excellent Order Preserved.

The Fall Meeting was inaugurated yesterday, Mr. John Donovan, President of the Memphis Association, presiding. The attendance was large, and the Ladies' Stand, which had been carefully arranged, presented quite an array of the gentler sex, elegantly attired, which added greatly to the brilliancy of the field. The track, under the management of Capt. John S. Lail, was in splendid condition, and all the arrangements were as complete as could be expected, if not desired. The very best order was observed, and when two individuals were creating a disturbance by an altercation in which they alone were interested, they were promptly ejected from the course, by order of the President.

THE FIRST DAY

Could not have opened under more brilliant auspices. Before an unclouded sun, the mists of morning were rolled away, and the air was freshly pleasant, if not balmy. Numerous carriages and other conveyances were early on the road, and the cars literally crowded to excess. It is estimated that there were some two thousand persons on the ground, eager to enjoy the noble sport, and it is but fair to say that they were not disappointed. The first race was a mile dash for two year olds, Jockey Club Purse $300—$25 entrance, p. p. This closed with seven entries, five of which paid forfeit, leaving the contest to Johnson & Douglass' ch. c. Richelieu, and P. Mitchell's br. c. Elgin. Notwithstanding there was some disappointment that "the field" was narrowed down to a match, still the spirited manner in which the contest was maintained speedily awakened renewed interest, and made it an exceedingly lively and exciting race. Richelieu led off and made the first quarter, half a length ahead in 27 seconds. He maintained about the same lead through the second and third quarters, although at times it was perceptible he was pressed, and came home in the lead in 1m. 56½s.

SECOND RACE.

There were nine entries for the Green Stake of $400. Entrance, $30, p. p., only four of which came to the scratch. This race being for untried three year olds, and mile heats, the pedigree of the entries was closely examined. In the pool selling, Magazine, entered by Turner & Johnson, was decidedly the favorite, with a Bleakwind colt second. Dumple led off in the first heat, followed closely by Magazine and Nannie Letcher, the latter Bleakwind colt trailing. They maintained this relative position until coming down the home stretch, when Nannie Letcher challenged Magazine and Dumple, and after a smart brush won the heat handsomely in 1:52½. The call for the second heat found all the colts at the post, looking well, and having their several backers with undiminished confidence, Magazine being still the favorite. The start was made with Nannie Letcher leading off, Magazine taking the second place, followed by Dumple and the bay colt. On the third quarter Dumple closed up, but was handily shaken off by Nannie Letcher, who came home easily six lengths ahead, winning the heat in 1:51¼, Magazine second.

Pools for the races to day were sold at the Gayoso House last evening. The street railroad cars leave the corner of Beal and Main streets promptly at 12 each day, and every ten minutes after that hour. Mr. James Topping, formerly of the Overton, will start a line of omnibuses from each of the principal hotels, in ample time for the first race, which will come off promptly at 2 o'clock p.m.

GRAND OPENING.

EASTLAND, LLOYD & GILBERT.

Success Attending Enterprise.

The superb establishment, No 327 Main street, which has been fitted up with lavish expenditure, was opened yesterday to crowds of elegant ladies and gentlemen, who surveyed the magnificent establishment, most tastefully blended, and the rich and beautiful services and styles of Queensware, with surprise and admiration. The sales room is equal, if not in fact surpasses the highest expectation, especially when the time occupied in waiting upon the constantly shifting visitors is considered. The Gayoso house had the honor of making the first sale, which amounted to $1 95. The lady purchaser, who availed themselves of this grand gala day, were greatly surprised at the remarkably low prices which ruled, especially when contrasted with those which prevailed heretofore in this city. The completeness of the assortment and the exceedingly low prices at which the finest articles are held, vied with each other in creating astonishment. This grand opening exhibits full surely that enterprise and energy must prevail even over hard times and despondency which may have cast down the spirits of those who are easily intimidated. The success of this "opening" should stimulate the enterprise of those half inclined to halt by the way.

AN ACCOMPLISHED PIANIST.—We have for some weeks intended to perform an agreeable duty. While we were absent from the city in October, a notice was forwarded to us, from Athens, Mississippi, by some one who we can not mistaken in supposing that it would interest and gratify us, of a concert given in that place, in the latter part of September, for the benefit of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, by Leo P. Wheat, the youngest and only surviving son of the late J. T. Wheat of this city. Mr. Wheat returned last summer from Europe, after completing his musical education as a performer upon the Piano and Organ under the best masters, and with all the advantages which that capital affords. While he was here for a little while on a visit, we heard him perform, and recognized in his touch and execution a master of the musical art, a musical genius and enthusiast, accomplished by study and perfected by practice. We have had some opportunity to become acquainted with the style and merits of great artists upon different instruments, and with music itself as a science; and we are not given to extravagant or undeserved laudation, even of "native talent;" and we can truly repeat that "Leo Wheat is an artist and a master of his art, not unworthy to perform with Thalberg, Liszt and Meyer. The Athens Post stated that he proposed making a musical tour through that State during October, and being in Memphis by the first of the present month. We have not heard of his arrival, and presume he has been delayed; but we hope he will not disappoint us, after warranting us in promising ourselves the pleasure of hearing him play in public here. He will not need, we think, either a foreign name, which generally possesses an irresistible attraction for our people, or any commendation as a child of our own South, (which he is) to insure him crowded houses, if he favours the people of Memphis with a series of concerts. He can afford to rely upon his own merits as a performer.

MACKEREL BRIGADE AGAIN.—Four youthful and hard-looking specimens of this notorious band paid a visit to the office of Lonsdale, in the country, and after stealing a coat and quite a number of gunny sacks, were making an exit from the stable, when two honest negroes in the next lot saw them, and hailed them, when they dropped a few of their plunder and ran off with the rest, and when Mr. Lonsdale with his mother were coming into the city in their carriage they met them. The gentleman, dropping his whip out of the carriage, asked the boys to hand him the same; then he nabbed them, finding the sacks and coat in their possession, and would have brought them to the city, but nothing of any consequence would have been done with them, so Mrs. Lonsdale gave them a well-timed lecture, and turned them loose, telling them to go and do better.

PHŒNIX (HARTFORD) LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—This well established and most reliable Company is represented here at No. 16 Jefferson street, by our popular fellow-citizen, S. D. McClure, Esq., who, since he has held the agency, has been highly successful in advancing its business and familiarizing our people with the excellence of the institution. The "Phœnix" stands second to none, and has long held a front place in the front rank of Insurance Companies. Its inducements are great, its policies on the most approved plan, and its payments always punctual. Mr. McClure is not so crowded with business that he cannot afford to give particular attention to the calls of his numerous friends, who may need his services.

Wrongs Inflicted on Memphis

Merchants and Farmers Should Co-Operate.

How We Are Plundered.

Extension of the City's Limits.

It is very probable, we have not the statistics before us, that Memphis pays more revenue into the State Treasury than the whole Western District. The property of its people is assessed for taxation, not by the owners, but by appointed agents of the city government. The books of these Assessors are notonly used by City Tax Collectors, but by those of the State and county. Not only is city property taxed on its full cash value by the municipal government, but also by the State. On the contrary, property holders beyond the corporate limits deal generously with themselves and their anxiety for cash, in substitution for real estate, becomes intense, when they furnish the State and county collector with valuations of their landed property. Through a quarter of a century this use of the city tax books has been made by the county, and at this hour the county owes the city, in adjusting their accounts with the State, a vast sum of money. If we add to this sum those vast amounts which the city has expended upon railways, connected for the common advantage of the city and country, it will become very apparent that two results should rightfully ensue. The corporate limits should be extended, and the county share the cost of making those assessments upon which both the County Court and municipal authorities have their levies. It is surely wrong that the County Assessor should be paid for labor faithfully done by those acting for the city government. If any question the justice of these suggestions, they need only inquire into relative valuations fixed upon adjacent lots on either side of the city boundary line. It will be found that of two adjoining lots, one within and the other without the corporate limits, that the former has always paid into the State Treasury twice or thrice as much as the latter. The former builds streets and railroads, to which the latter does not contribute, of equal advantage to both. These processes of palpable wrong and inequality have continued to operate through twenty or thirty years past. How blunted, then, must be that sense of justice and right which impels owners of exterior lots to resist every yet just extension of the city's limits. We are told by Judge Swayne, now on a mission of mercy at Nashville, sent thither to represent the selfishness of Chelsea—that selfishness which makes denizens of this delightful suburb beg our Board of Aldermen for bayou bridges and smooth pavements, and yet induces resistance to the extension of the city's confines—we are told by Judge Swayne that there is a vast deal of unoccupied property within the city, and therefore that the boundaries should not be widened. The very people who own these vacant city lots own plantations just outside the city. If the boundaries of Memphis were widened, and city assessments imposed on adjacent exterior land, there would follow a distribution of property. Real estate would be no longer monopolized by the few at the cost of the many, and the greatest obstacle, beyond epidemics, to its increase, to the progress and prosperity of the city would be removed. Let those within and without Memphis boundaries ask the General Assembly to relieve a people of aggravated wrongs, to which they have submitted through the past 30 years of the history of this tax-burdened community. Lessen public exactions by their diffusion—the cost of goods and merchandise will be lessened; the area of Memphis trade will be widened; larger sums will be paid into the State Treasury; numbers will be augmented; the poor will own, instead of renting homesteads; population will be made permanent, its character improved and the highest anticipations of those who have dreamed the glories of this city will be realized.

LOTTA AT THE NEW MEMPHIS.—If any one doubted the charming Lotta's drawing proclivities, his mind would have been disabused last night. One of the very best houses of the season regaled to any, if not superior, except the benefit for the sufferers by the epidemic) greeted her. If anything, she has improved since last year, although in stature not a hair's breadth. The fine audience need to fail at once beneath the arch and winning grace that surrounds her like a halo. There is no half-way acting about her. She plays in earnest, and has such cunning ways and limpsome step from the witchery. Her "Paul," in the sprightly comedietta of the Pet of the Petticoats, was full of vivacity, and took the house by storm. Her songs were encored, and the audience listening to her ringing notes, clear and round as the tones of the sweetest bell, would have had them prolonged to the extent of physical ability. We shall not make the apt quotation, since it was vulgarized by one devoted to sanitary purposes, but we experienced the spell, and the "fairy like music" floats around us now. Interspersed with the songs were the famous song and banjo solo, which were called for again and again. We could exhaust the adjectives in Webster in repeating the praise of this real, unquestionable, sterling "little star," that may be equal to, if not surpass in her rare brilliancy and shines with undimmed effulgence. She is a "card" that Manager Thompson can play with a certainty of winning the game. People can't help going to see her—she is irresistible. Having said so much of "Lotta," (and we feel it all), we have only space to say that the tout ensemble last night was excellent—every one feeling a revived spirit, as if the sun had risen over another day, and passed out of the reign of darkness. The favorable reception last night warranted the manager in repeating the same bill this evening.

A COLORED MAN SHOT BY ANOTHER.—On Saturday evening a difficulty occurred at a fair being held by colored people in the northeastern part of the city, between a man named Henry McDonald and two others, named Ed. Hunter and John Taylor. McDonald has lost a leg, and goes upon crutches, and had a pistol with him when he went to the fair, and it is said was creating a disturbance. His pistol was taken away from him by some one, and he charged Hunter with having it. He went Sunday morning to Taylor's house, on Alabama street, attended by his crutch, and demanded his pistol. Hunter and Taylor went out to the gate in front of the house, and an altercation ensued. McDonald drew a pistol to fire at Hunter, several women being, at the time, in the yard. Taylor seized the pistol in McDonald's hand before he could fire it, and the two struggled together in the street for the weapon. Another man, a friend of McDonald's, came up and separated them, and as soon as McDonald's hand was released, he fired the pistol, the ball entering the right groin of Taylor, and passing downward. He was taken to his house and surgical aid obtained. Officers Miller and Dixon, of the Metropolitan Police, arrested McDonald and took him to the Adams street station house. He was brought up before the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of shooting within the corporation, but as a warrant had been obtained for his arrest on the graver charge of shooting with intent to kill, Commissioner Richards dismissed the misdemeanor case. McDonald was taken before Justice Miller, and gave bonds in the sum of $4000 for his examination on to-morrow.

PROGRESS OF THE ART OF PAINTING IN MEMPHIS.—The grand and unique style in which the new establishment of Messrs. Eastland, Lloyd & Gilbert is painted and frescoed tells us that the skill of our artists has greatly improved. The glaringly daubed signs of the "old style," which so "horrified" strangers, are beginning to disappear, and neat and magnificent designs taking their places. This we are glad to see; and we are also delighted at noticing a change in the ceilings of stores, the dingy papering and common whitewashing being superceded by beautiful frescoing and delightful calcimining. We wish all our merchants would examine the artistic and praiseworthy manner in which Messrs. Hook & Lagrill, of this city, have decorated the storeroom and lettered the signs of the house of Messrs. Eastland, Lloyd & Gilbert. The taste displayed in their execution is admirable, and cannot but elicit the highest praise from all who love the chaste and ornamental in art. Messrs. Hook & Lagrill, whose "shop" is on Union street, are also house-painters, paper-hangers and glaziers; and persons desiring "neat jobs" should give them a call, as they will render the utmost satisfaction in their work.

THE COURTS.

LAW COURT.—James O. Pierce, Judge, etc.—Met on yesterday pursuant to adjournment. Col. L. D. McKissick presented, in an appropriate address, the resolutions of the Committee in reference to the death of the late Judge Thomas G. Smith. Several of the members of the Bar responded to the resolutions. It was ordered that the resolutions presented by Col. McKissick be spread upon the records of the Court, after which an adjournment was had over to to-day. The Trial Docket will be called, commencing at case number 695.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—Judge Waldron presiding, etc.—The case of the State vs. Joseph Lipari and Rose Lovejoy, indictment for keeping house of ill fame, was taken up for trial on yesterday. Upon application of defendant's counsel a severance was had, and the case versus Lipari was commenced. The evidence introduced was the usual kind presented on such occasions—that of police officers, frequenters and inmates of the premises. One of two of the latter class was placed upon the stand, but they seemed to know little or nothing about the case, and had quite vague ideas as to the character of the house or its inmates. The trial not being closed up to the time of the adjournment of Court, it will be taken up to-day and concluded. The following cases come up for trial at the conclusion of the above case: 278 to 279, The State vs. G. W. Van Yoast; 222 to 228, do. vs. John Carnes; 404, do. vs. P. Cohen; 407, do. vs. Jennie Steadman; 408, do. vs. T. O. Smith; 406, do. vs. Jas. Young and H. Jones; 45 to 54, do. vs. E. Ferguson.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 13.

405, The State vs. John Enson. Quite a large number of important suits, attachments, etc., appear on the scrap docket of this court since the passage of the act increasing the jurisdiction to the sum of $5000.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith Chancellor, etc.—Met yesterday. Judge Thomas R. Smith presented the resolutions in reference to the death of the late Judge Thomas G. Smith. Landon C. Haynes, Esq., responded to the same The Chancellor ordered the resolutions to be spread upon the minutes, and Court adjourned over to to-day, out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge, Etc.—The case of William Saunders, indictment for larceny, was taken up for trial on yesterday. The evidence against the prisoner (a little mackerel) was of a circumstantial character. The jury had not agreed at a late hour last evening. A verdict of acquittal was generally expected to-day. The jail cases will continue to be called up for trial.

A CARD.

OVERTON HOTEL,
MEMPHIS, November 11, 1867.

In the papers of Sunday morning a resolution of the Directors of the Memphis Race Association is published as follows.

"Resolved, That, as the Overton Hotel refuses to pay the stake that was offered by said house, that it be so changed as to read 'Lost Stake,' and that the Association make the same stake good, and name it 'Lost Stake,' instead of 'Overton Hotel,' and that the Secretary be ordered to remove all tickets and tedges from said house to the grayoso, and all pools to be sold at the Gayoso House.

"A. D GIBSON, Secretary."

Thus leading the public to believe that I had agreed to give a stipulated amount for the Overton Hotel purse, and then declined to pay it.

The following is a note of the Secretary will show for itself that they assessed me $400 without consulting me.

"MEMPHIS, November 8, 1867.

"Mr. Robbins: The amount of your assessment to the Memphis Race Association is $400. I am requested to notify you that the same is required to-day. Please send to me at 284

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, November 10, 1867.

The offerings of cotton bills to day were large, though the cotton market was inactive. Rates of exchange have not varied since last week, and are firm at ½ off buying. Selling at par in rare instances, but the current counter rates are ¼ premium. Currency is abundant for the removal of cotton, though scarce for other purposes.

Gold opened in New York at 138¾, and at noon had advanced an ¼. In our market very few sales of coin are reported. The Gold rate to-day was steady at 137@137½.

Silver 128@130c buying.

City Scrip is in demand to-day, and higher. It will, no doubt, continue to advance. Dealers bought at 41c, and have advanced their selling rates to 43@46.

County Warrants are dull at 68.37c buying. Selling at 75c.

Police Scrip is scarce—buying at 74c, selling at 80c.

It is rumored that the Treasury is about to sell a quantity of the Ten-Forty Bonds to meet the foreign demand. This report is not confirmed. But if the Ten-Forty Bonds should be received with favor in Europe the Treasury might hereafter be able to dispose of them on terms more for the interest of the Treasury than those now ruling. Congress, it is said, will be asked to authorize further issues for this purpose.

Two decisions have recently been made by the New York courts, of great importance to brokers and speculators in stocks. These decisions make the broker the owner of any stocks he may have bought for a customer on a margin, and authorizes him to sell the stock of his customer in case the margin is exhausted. The first was in the case of Oakes vs. Drake, in which the opinion was delivered by Judge Ingraham. The other was in the case of Markland vs. Jenkins, the opinion was delivered by Judge Leonard. The opinions together hold that where a banker or a broker invests his own means in the purchase or carrying of stocks for his employer, the relation created is not that of pledgor or pledgee, so as to require the broker to give notice of the time and place of sale if he wishes to sell the stocks upon the customer failing to respond, but he may sell after demand of the money and a reasonable opportunity to the customer to pay it, without notifying the customer of the time and place of sale. On the latter of these two cases it is held that the customer does not become the owner of the stocks until he has paid for them, and until then the parties are simply in a relation of special contractors with each other—a relation more resembling that of vendor and vendee rather than that of pledgor and pledgee.

The Liverpool dispatches of Friday were only received to-day. The sales in that market for the week ending that day were 65,000 bales. Of this amount speculators took 5000 bales, and exporters 13,000 bales. The stock on hand was 571,000 bales, of which but 1,3,000 were American. The market closed on Friday quiet, but firm, with Up ands at 8 11-16d and Orleans 9 1-16d. The New York market to-day opened quiet, but steady, and at noon it had declined ⅛c. Middlings 38½@38¾c, but holders were unwilling to make further concessions. The closing dispatch announced a quiet but steady market and prices nominally uncharged, with sales of only 500 bales. Our market was inactive. There was a wide difference between the views of buyer and seller, so much so, that most of the former covered up their tables and withdrew. The sales which were made were on a basis of 16c for Middling. It was decidedly the quietest day in cotton for the past month, and the total sales would foot but little over 200 bales.

The report of the Department of Agriculture for October says, the wheat crop of the country will exceed any harvest hitherto known. The amount is placed at from 220,000,000 to 225,000,000 bushels. Illinois gives an increase of 7 per cent; Michigan, 13; Iowa, 15; Wisconsin, 16; Ohio, 19; Indiana, 8; West Virginia, 57; Kentucky, 38; Pennsylvania, 57. The quality of the wheat is greatly superior to that of last year. It is almost universally sound and dry, but in many localities there may be found from a third to a half deficiency in weight, lacking in plumpness or slightly shriveled, and passing as No. 2, being less than fifty-eight pounds to the bushel. There is also a greater tendency to cleanliness and care in preparing the grain for market.

FARM FOR SALE.

The Best Bargain Offered

S. N. ELLIOTT offers for sale this Farm of 920 Acres, at Elliott's station, on the Mississippi Central Railroad, eight miles south of Grenada. 300 more acres can be added if desired.

The land lies on both sides of the railroad, up to Elliott's Station, and affords eligible site for Mercantile and Manufacturing establishments. It has an abundance of fine timber, needed by the railroad; more than enough to pay the price of the whole tract. It is all level, and susceptible of divisions to suit any purposes. Has 250 acres cleared and under good fence. Has a comfortable family residence with good out-houses, barns and stables—large, and the best gin, screw and cotton press—all new, in the same county. The improvements cost within the last three years $5000. Mr. Elliott desires to sell before the first of January next, and as a strong inducement he offers his land at ten dollars per acre, in United States Currency, for which he refused thirty dollars per acre in 1861. Time will be given, if desir d, upon half the price upon fair terms. Sale must be made soon or not at all. Title of the highest grade. Refer to

FASSMAN'S IRON TIES
—FOR—
COTTON BALES.

THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season.

In addition to the FASSMAN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE, so extensively used heretofore they now offer their ALLIGATOR TIE, with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The superiority of iron Ties over rope generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

GROWING OLD.
BY MATTHEW ARNOLD.

What is it to grow old?
Is it to lose the glory of the form,
The lustre of the eye?
Is it for beauty to forego her wreath?
Yes, but not this alone.

Is it to feel our strength—
Not our bloom only, but the strength—decay?
Is it to feel each limb
Grow stiffer, every function less exact,
Each nerve more weakly strung?

Yes, this, and more! but not—
Ah! 'tis not what in youth we dreamed
'twould be!
'Tis not to have our life
Mellowed and softened as with sunset glow,
A golden day's decline!

'Tis not to see the world
As from a high, with rapt prophetic eyes
And heart profoundly stirred;
And weep, and feel the fullness of the past,
The years that are no more!

It is to spend long days
And not once feel that we were ever young;
It is to add, immured
In the hot prison of the present, month
To month, with weary pain.

It is to suffer this,
And feel but half, and feebly, what we feel.
Deep in our hidden heart
Festers the dull remembrance of a change,
But no emotion—none.

It is—last stage of all—
When we are frozen up within, and quite
The phantom of ourselves,
To hear the world applaud the hollow ghost
Which blamed the living man.

THE LOST CHORD.
BY ADELAIDE ANNE PROCTOR.

Seated one day at the organ,
I was weary and ill at ease,
And my fingers wandered idly
Over the noisy keys.

I do not know what I was playing,
Or what I was dreaming then;
But I struck one chord of music,
Like the sound of a great Amen.

It flooded the crimson twilight,
Like the close of an angel's Psalm,
And it lay on my fevered spirit
With a touch of infinite calm.

It quieted pain and sorrow,
Like love overcome strife,
It seemed the harmonious echo
From our discordant life.

It linked all perplexed meanings
Into one perfect peace,
And trembled away into silence
As if it were loth to cease.

I have sought, but seek it vainly,
That one lost chord divine,
Which came from the soul of the organ,
And entered into mine.

It may be that death's bright angel
Will speak in that chord again,
It may be that only in Heaven
I shall hear that grand Amen.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS.

Professor YOUATT gives the following interesting fact in one of his valuable works:

A horse in the depot at Woodwich had proved so unmanageable to the roughriders, that at length no one among them durst even mount him. His mode of throwing or dismounting his rider consisted in lying down and rolling over him, or else crushing his leg against some wall or post, or paling. All means to break him of these perilous tricks proving unavailing, the animal was brought before the commanding officer with the character of being "incurably vicious," and with a recommendation, on that account, that he should be sold. Col. Quest, hearing of this and knowing the horse to be thoroughly bred and one of the best-actioned and cleverest horses in the regiment, besought the commanding officer to permit him to be transferred into the riding troops. This was consented to, and the transfer was no sooner accomplished than Col. Quest determined to pursue a system of management directly opposite to that which had already been attempted. He had him led daily into the riding school, suffered no whips even to be shown to him, while there, but petted him and tried to make him execute this and the other manœuvre, and as often as he proved obedient, rewarded him with a handful of corn, or beans, or a piece of bread, with which bribes his pockets were invariably well supplied. In this manner, and in no great distance of time, the rebel was not only subdued and tamed, but rendered so perfectly quiet that a little child could ride him. He became, at length, taught to kneel down while his rider mounted, and to perform several evolutions and deceits and tricks in the menage, which no other horse in the school could be brought to do. In fine, so great a favorite did he become, that his master gave him the appellation of The Darling.

New Method of Ripening Wine.

M. Pasteur (whose researches on spontaneous generation were discussed in our last number), at the instigation of the Emperor Napoleon, has investigated the value of heating wines in water baths, and he finds that it gives them all the qualities derived from age—in fact it ripens them, gives them age, and destroys those germs of parasite vegetation which lead to the destruction of the finer qualities of light wines, and prevents their traveling. The heating of wine is as old as the time of Pliny, and it has been long the custom to boil the wine in Italy and Greece, but no one has investigated the question scientifically until the French savant undertook the inquiry. He says there is a peculiar parasitic growth which attacks all wines of low alcoholic strength. After much experimenting he found that by heating wine in bottles to 130 degrees Fahrenheit these germs were destroyed in a couple of hours, and were not liable to be affected again. What is more to the purpose, bottles half filled and covered with the parasitic mold so heated were rendered sound and good. In short, he affirms that he has cured the tendency to grow sick and turn sour of the light wines of France, and that wine so treated may be left exposed to the air without taking any damage. The commissioners appointed to test his experiments gave a decision highly in favor of his process. If time should back the opinion of these gentlemen, one of the greatest obstacles to the consumption of the light wines of France in this country would be obviated—it will be as easy to leave a bottle half filled without fear of its becoming sour, as it now is with the far stronger wines. If M. Pasteur is right, Madeira need no longer go a voyage to the East Indies at an enormous expense—it will double the Cape in an hour or so, by the ingenious process of the Frenchman. Wine in the cask can be treated in the same manner, and it may be drawn afterward leisurely, the oxygen of the atmosphere having no further action upon it. If this is all true, Oporto wine—we do not mean port—can be treated in the same way, and all excuse removed for the heavy doses of alcohol it now receives. Moreover, it will acquire the mellowness and ripeness of years at one.—Edinburgh Review.
